

How to Pitch an Article, Blog, or Downloadable

Thank you for your time and Fly Five content contribution! We're so grateful to have you as a member of our community. Whatever your story—big or small—we want to hear from you!

To get you started, consider the following examples of content ideas we are accepting:

- Timely stories that relate to upcoming holidays and how to celebrate in the classroom
- Moments where students displayed an SEL skill that took you by surprise
- A challenge while implementing the curriculum you overcame as a class
- Unique ways you integrate Fly Five throughout the day
- Board games or activities that support social and emotional skill building
- Articles, blogs, or downloadables focused on student and teacher well-being

Once you have your content idea, send us an email to marketing@flyfivesel.org with "Guest Feature: [Proposed Title]" as the subject. In the body of your email, be sure to include the following information:

- A few sentences describing your proposed piece and a detailed outline
- For articles, we request 500 to 850 words, grade-leveled downloadables (K-8, K-2, 3-5, or 6-8)
- A few words about the intended target audience for your submission (e.g., middle school teachers, administrators, instructional coaches, etc.)
- A short bio and headshot or photo with details about your role in education, including your current job
- Links to other pieces (if any) you've written, particularly for academic publications
- Signed and attached CRS media release form

After submitting, expect to hear back from us in five to seven days with an update on your proposed piece. Thank you for including Fly Five in your SEL journey!

We can't wait to hear from you!
